GREET VIENNA

GREET Vienna stands for “Global Real Estate and Economy Talks” in Vienna. It is to provide an international platform for commercial properties and investments in Central, Eastern and South Eastern Europe (CEE & SEE) including Russia, Turkey and CIS. Here is where potential and existing players in international real estate meet.

Austria is a major investment partner for many countries in CEE and SEE. What better venue than Vienna to host GREET Vienna, a setting for the Austrian real estate professionals and a platform for East and West.

Target Group

Decision makers from all areas of international real estate including

- Cities, regions and communities
- Investment
- Real estate financing
- Project development
- Property management
- Facility management
- Tax & Law
- Evaluation
- Real estate marketing
- Urban planning and development
- Tenants and end users
- Architecture and planning
- Building construction

... and many more

Networking Area

The former meeting hall of the Lower Austrian parliament in the baroque Niederösterreich Palace close to the city centre will constitute the networking area. Featuring the largest continuous ceiling fresco in Austria it provides an exclusive setting for exhibitors to present their projects and services and to welcome guests. The networking area will be open all day – also during the conferences – offering a central meeting point for all participants. Why not use this impressive setting to mark your company's perfect appearance?

Conference Agenda

Our comprehensive conference agenda will take place in several rooms close to the networking area. Learn how international investors establish their portfolios and which CEE and SEE markets and types of use are currently attractive. Top speakers will inform you on the hottest issues in the industry. Politicians and urban planners will present projects and developments in their region, while international experts will provide you with market overviews from a global perspective.
